DIE STRUCK DSI - 20 DAYS PRODUCTION

Die striking is a process of jewelry manufacturing that uses an immense amount of pressure to form metal into a desired shape.

PRINTED PLP - 20 DAYS PRODUCTION

AVAILABLE FINISHES

● Brushed Silver

Screen print is the printing of up to 4 colors, graphics and logo designs can be brilliantly reproduced underneath a hard epoxy coating.

ETCHED EP - 20 DAYS PRODUCTION

Photo etched lapel pins are manufactured by taking an image of your design and transferring it from film onto the surface of a sheet of metal. Your design is then etched into the brass or copper using an acid etching process.

HARD ENAMEL HELP - 30 DAYS PRODUCTION

Dazzle customers with a jewelry quality, custom hard enamel lapel pin. Pins are polished to a smooth, shiny finish where the enamel is flush with the metal pin.

PRODUCTION PROCESS

Customer Service

There are many stages in processing an order for promotional products, starting with our customer service representatives, which is to analyze the order, check with the distributor for any missing information and, if needed, help the distributor with suggestions as to the best method required for a specific order.

At this point, an order confirmation is faxed to the distributor and the specifications are given to the graphic department.

Artwork

Our professional artists will translate the distributor's artwork into a linear format suitable for production processes. The artwork is then sent to the distributor for approval and/or further modifications needed for final approval. Once this step is done, a work order containing all specifications is prepared for every stage of production.

Model and mold making

Based on the approved artwork, 2D or 3D models are made with careful attention to all details and specifications. The model must be checked and transferred into the production mold.

2D models are 2 superimposed flat levels. This means some of the details or background will be raised and the rest will be recessed.

3 Levels/Multi-Levels models have many flat levels giving a similar look to 3D.

3D models are divided into two categories. The first is the One-sided 3D, i.e., this means the front will be in 3D and the back will be flat or 2D. The other category is Full 3D, and in this form, the models are made as life-like as possible.

Half 3D

PRODUCTION PROCESS

Color fill

When colors are required, the process starts by mixing colors in order to get the proper PMS match. The application of colors requires well-trained personnel and precision work. The result is a color fill piece with raised metal borders that will separate the colors.

Imprinting/Hybrid

When details are very small, or two colors are required to be laid one on top of the other (without any metal separation) a hybrid process is used. The first step is to color fill the background followed by pad printing on the colored surface.

Photoart

If an actual photo (4-color process) or a large amount of colors is required, as well as gradation of colors, the PhotoArt process is used. A printed label is made and cut according to the required shape, then applied onto the product and covered with a clear epoxy dome for protection and beauty (where specified).

Die struck

Die struck will provide jewelry quality. The surface is polished and the background is matte (sand blasted). Die struck can be applied to pure metals like brass, copper, gold and silver.

Solid pewter

Pewter is an alloy consisting of mostly tin, the fourth most precious metal. It also has very small amounts of antimony and copper that are added mainly for strength and/or color. The percentage of tin can vary from manufacturer to manufacturer. CNIJ pewter is 88% tin. We can also provide your clients with Lead Free pewter. The look and richness of polished pewter will make your clients reorder CNIJ-made products many times over.

Casting

The casting method we use is spin casting; the molten metal is poured into a machine which spins the mold. As with all other stages in production, all castings are inspected, assembled, sanded, etc... for any excess metal or sharp areas.

Quality control

Every stage of the order and production processes is accompanied by thorough quality control checks. A final check is done at the shipping department before products are sent to our clients.

Eco-Friendly

CNIJ believes in protecting everyone's health and safety by implementing new procedures specifically aimed at reducing the use of hazardous and harmful products. In an effort to keep our air and environment clean, we recycle most products and metals that can be; we use several lead free metals and zinc. We have also changed some production processes to eliminate the use of harmful chemicals. All this to develop more Eco-friendly products.
